Why Is Fruit So High Priced?

Oranges are reported, to be worth only 'twenty cents a box in Florida'—the same old price prevails in Dothan. The cheapest you can get a dozen oranges for here is thirty cents. You could buy them at that price during boom times with the grower. What the trouble is we are unable to say, but there is something wrong somewhere.

The same condition exists in the apple market. The biggest crop of apples in the history of the apple growing industry in this country was produced last year. In the apple growing territory there was launched a buy-a-barrel-of-apples movement like the buy-a-bale movement in the cotton belt, on account of the immense crop and low price. Yet, when you want apples in Dothan you have to pay for them at the rate of five dollars a barrel. The freight on a box of oranges from Florida to New York is said to be forty odd cents while to Dothan it is eighty odd. However, the transportation companies claim they are not getting for freight all the difference between first cost and retail price, and the retailer says he is making a very small margin of profit. The puzzle is to find who is causing the too high price of oranges and apples and see if it can not be reduced, for these two fruits are healthy and nutritious and should be procured by the poor.

Birmingham was the first city in the United States to have an electric street railway and the last to have a newspaper advocating the Initiative and Referendum.

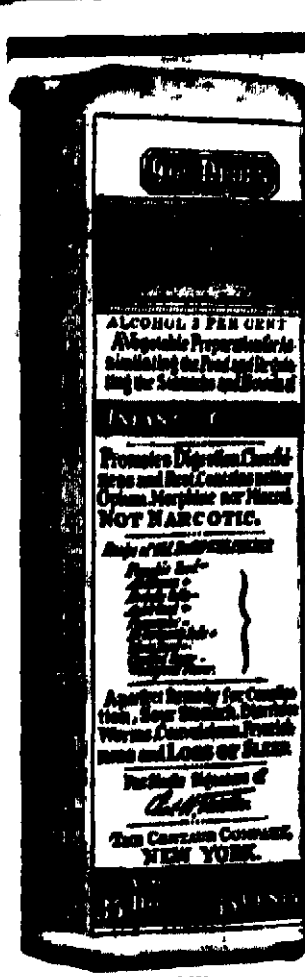

Shakespeare's declaration that there is nothing in a name must have been comforting to the man who died in Baltimore the other day named Guttmacher.

High is in the count but there is someone in The Dothan Eagle office who keeps up the running fire of pungent paragraphs—Gusterville Democrat.

Marriage Restrictions—

There is more or less hooting at the bill before the Kansas legislature relating to hygiene marriages," says the Emporia, Kan., Gazette.

The Gazette says that all kinds of restrictions are put around the breeding of animals, yet every defective child brought into the world by reason of the lack of good breeding laws, costs the taxpayers for generations—if the defective is allowed to breed—thousands of dollars.

There has been a cry from all quarters of this country for a uniform divorce law, but a far greater need is a uniform marriage law—a law that will not only prevent the marriage of children which is said to head the list as a cause for divorce but prevent the physical unfit from marrying. Marriage is too easy. The time is coming when a man applies for a license to get married he will have to present a certificate from a reputable physician that he is physically sound with no hereditary or acquired taint of disease. Sense instead of sentiment will govern.

The Gazette says some more plain, but sensible things:

"Now then—the time has come when certain things should be spoken rather boldly. Two words need to become fairly familiar to young men and women, they are syphilis and gonorrhea, they are the two diseases that cloud the brains of children, cripple the bodies of wives and make hell on this earth even to the third and fourth generation. There should be a state control of marriages, the taxpayer has an interest in marriages. And until the state does take hold of marriages and clean them up even as the state takes hold of the foot and mouth disease or hog cholera, broken wives, defective children, and sad homes will be the least of the evils that follow our prudery.

"Men aren't allowed to do as they please with their live stock. Why are they permitted to do as they please with the children who shall fill our schools, shall make our citizenship, and carry forward the work of the race during the generations to come? The right of the preachers to perform the ceremony at a marriage is a sacred right. There are too many justice of the peace weddings. But the family doctor, as well as the family preacher, should also have something to say before an engagement is announced, and certainly before a marriage is performed."

Game Laws Violated.

Last Friday morning bright and early, four of our leading sportsmen, shouldered their guns and hastened to the country to shoot doves, the fields having been "bailed" for several days, and it seemed that all the birds in the county, and from neighboring sections had gathered there that morning to get their breakfast, as had been their practice for more than a week. But when it got light enough to shoot, the booming of guns alarmed the county all around in hearing distance. It did not take long to bag the legal limit for one day, the birds were so plentiful, and as the game warden arrived one of the parties a crack shot, shooting a 20 gauge gun, had brought down the limit of the game warden supposed he had, since he refused to count the birds or allow the warden to do so. The boys invited Mr. Vann to try his hand and very kindly offered their gun and ammunition, and proposed to gather for him all the birds he might kill, but he declined and gave as his excuse that he was out of practice, that he had not been hunting in a long long while, and was on a business mission much more profitable, anyway. We dare is the he would have killed a few of the birds for him on the spot had he not had a willingness to freckle with them. Birds were plentiful, and all of them being experts "on the wing," soon had the legal number, and left the field with the birds circling all about them, seeming to realize at that moment that their prey for and friend was present. These birds will cost the boys 50 to 80 each, the sport was doubtless worth it, and they will accept the result cheerfully and learn a lesson from their experience by getting out of the hearing of Mr. Vann.

the warden, the next time they go to shoot birds in a "bailed field"—Abbeville News.

These game law violators should come to Houston county where they would not be bothered.

Let's start a campaign for the eradication.

A word to the wise is usually not enough.

If at first you don't succeed—diversify.

A tombstone salesman says that is also a dead business.

Strange as it may seem somebody will always laugh at the oldest joke.

The human life market in Houston county is quite bullish today.

Yesterday being Lincoln's birthday reminds us that the Colonel is growing less like him.

Up to the time of going to press the Wilson administration had not been blamed for putting up the price of cotton seed.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jennie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stay most of the time. I could not do any housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. I could not swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I got Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

OWE MY HEALTH to Peruna

I was Gradually Breaking Down From Confinement to Stomach.

Mr. U. M. Peterson, dealer in shoes, shoes and cigars, No. 122 South Main St., Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I cannot tell you how much good Peruna has done me. Constant confinement in my store began to tell on my health and I felt that I was gradually breaking down. I tried several remedies prescribed by my physician, but obtained no permanent relief until I took Peruna. I felt better immediately, and five bottles restored me to complete health. I have been in the best of spirits since, and feel that I owe my health to it."

Catch Cold Easily.

Mr. Arthur G. Peterson, R. F. D. 21, Box 21, Orono, Wisconsin, writes: "I was in the habit of catching cold easily."

He says: "It has been seven months now since I have taken any Peruna, and I haven't felt the least touch of cold since, and I am positive that I am now rid of the tendency to catch cold. Peruna is a wonderful remedy."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

SUMMARY OF WAR STATUS

An official Petrograd Statement today makes it clear that the Russian invasion of East Prussia is checked and that the invaders are retreating to their own territory.

No further details have been received of the great battle in the Carpathians. On the Warsaw front the Russian attack, which followed the latest German effort, seems to have subsided. Corresponding quiet prevails in the west.

The International Pastime.

There's a game that men long have been playing,
Though often its ending is woe
It is thoughtlessly played
With the heart of a man
Or, maybe a dozen or so.

It is filled with apparent devotion;
As gentle, it seems, as a dove,
Though it often contains
Many hearts and pains,
Does this wonderful game we call love.

There are some who are fair in their playing,
But such it is seldom we meet,
For the world, as a rule,
When in love is a fool,
And likewise most often a cheat.

So, beware, little maid, of its temptations;
Yield slowly to love's gentle sway;
For with man, oft it ends—
When a maiden unbends
Though she's only beginning to play.

The heart's the only true player;
To that you may yield all the spoils;
But be wary, be wise,
Ware the lips and the eyes—
They are only the sharks and the cheats.

And one other warning I'd give you—
Tread well to be heading the game—
Not for love, dear, of you,
But just for the love of the game.

MONTGOMERY OPENS CROP DIVERSIFICATION HEADQUARTERS

Montgomery, Ala. Feb. 12. Headquarters for the Crop Diversification Campaign for central and southern Alabama have been opened at the Chamber of Commerce, Montgomery. About fifteen counties in the central and southern parts of the state will be included in that part of the campaign that is under the direction of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce. Headquarters have been established at Montgomery just as at Birmingham and petitions are beginning to come into the Capital City from counties to the east and west. The general committee for the campaign in the southern part of the State is composed of A. C. Davis, chairman, E. J. Moyer, F. J. Crampton, E. B. Jones, Ed C. Taylor and W. P. Chilton—all leading business men of Montgomery. Each county that is included in the schedule will have its own campaign committee and each county will bear its proportionate share of expenses of the campaign.

W. S. Bonham, state commiss.

ment of education and J. A. Wade, commissioner of agriculture, will take part in the campaign in the southern section of Alabama. These men are very enthusiastic about the work and are writing letters to farmers and school teachers asking them to make the campaign as great a success as possible.

The campaign in central and southern Alabama will be under way shortly after the middle of February and it is expected to last just as long as the campaign in the northern part of the state out of Birmingham. As this statewide campaign opened in Birmingham it will close in Montgomery with a big round up meeting that will be held by the farmers and business men from all parts of the State. Montgomery is planning for a general meeting that will be larger than the one held in Birmingham at the start. This meeting will take place early in March.

Right after the close of the campaign the follow up work will start. The leaders in this work will be the agricultural and business men of the State who want to get together to work out practical plans for better marketing facilities and for making diversified farming and live stock raising a success in every part of the state. Reports from the counties in which the campaign is now going on are that all the people of central and southern women, boys and girls have seen Alabama, where the towns are built out to the farm and school dependent altogether upon agriculture. The Montgomery people are working hard to make the prosperity
